

Digital media specialist

(part time, potentially leading to full time)

*Salary negotiable depending on skills and experience.
The successful candidate would be able to work from home.*

Evangelical Times is seeking a digital media specialist who can help develop the newspaper's online reach. This exciting new post is initially offered on a part-time basis, but could develop into a full-time post. The post will involve communicating evangelical beliefs to the public, and so the successful candidate must possess a good level of discernment and be personally committed to the Mission Statement and the Statement of Faith of ET (available to read on our website).

Some, not necessarily all, of the following skills would be a benefit:

Video editing
Social media publishing
Marketing and promotion
Creative and IT skills
Media or journalistic experience

Applications will be treated in the strictest confidence.
Please include a CV and examples of any previous relevant work.
